

Historical occupation studies: sources, methods, analysis technologies.

Edited by V.N. Vladimirov and M.H.D. van Leeuwen.

Contents:

Introduction	3
Vladimirov V.N. Historical occupation studies — on the path to studying occupational history and occupational mobility	7

Sources

Antonov D.N., Antonova I.A. Source base for studying occupations and labour in Russia	19
Vladimirov V.N., Sarafanov D.E., Chibisov M.E. On the possibility of parish population registration data use for studying employment.	28
Kok J. Sources for the historical demography of the Netherlands in the 19 th and early 20 th centuries.	51
Silina I.G. Archival-investigation cases as a source for studying Altai province occupational composition in 1919 — 1930	66

Methods and technologies

Kanishchev V.V., Konchakov R.B., Strekalova N.V. Intergenerational occupational mobility of Tambov population at the beginning of the 20 th century	85
Van Leeuwen M.H.D., Maas I. The study of social mobility in the past	101
Rodionova M.A. Occupational composition of Altai (mining) okrug white-collar workers in the 19 th and early 20 th centuries	149

Khabarova O.V. Study of 19 th c. Sevastopol population occupational spectrum on the basis of parish book registers: procedure and general characteristic of the research	182
Hayen M. No future. Career opportunities for men belonging to declining branches in Stockholm, 1880 – 1925	213
Shchetinina A.S. Tomsk province WW I refugees' occupational composition	226